

Anyone is welcome to audit this course! Auditing students are encouraged to come to class having read the literary text and participate in class discussions. Students who wish to take this course for credit must have prior experience with literary analysis (must have taken university-level literature courses).

Transnational and Minority Literatures

Kristina Iwata